Lizzie's Book Shelf

The Rithmatist
by Brandon Sanderson
353 pages

Genre: Young Adult/Fantasy

Summary: More than anything, Joel wants to be a Rithmatist. Rithmatists have the power to infuse life into two-dimensional figures known as Chalklings. Rithmatists are humanity's only defense against the Wild Chalklings. Having nearly overrun the territory of Nebraska, the Wild Chalklings now threaten all of the American Isles. As the son of a lowly chalkmaker at Armedius Academy, Joel can only watch as Rithmatist students learn the magical art that he would do anything to practice. Then students start disappearing—kidnapped from their rooms at night, leaving trails of blood. Assigned to help the professor who is investigating the crimes, Joel and his friend Melody find themselves on the trail of an unexpected discovery—one that will change Rithmatics—and their world—forever.

My Review: I enjoyed this book, though not as much as Steelheart. There's a magic system, as there always is in Brandon Sanderson's novels, but it was, for lack of a better word, a little boring. There are Wild Chalklings that Rithmatists must learn how draw defensive lines and chalklings that come to life to protect people against the wild ones. I mean, he does as good of a job as it was possible to do to make Wild Chalklings scary but still it's, you know, chalk drawings. I just had a hard time being afraid of chalk, but maybe that's okay because I'm not technically the target audience since this one seems to be geared toward a younger audience than most of Sanderson's novels.

I really liked all the characters, particularly Professor Fitch and Melody, although the main character, Joel, was good, too. My favorite part was the very last fight scene of the book, which going my blood burning with pride. Alas, I'm still undecided if I'll be picking up the second book or not. And since it's expected publication isn't until 2017...yeah. It doesn't bode well for Joel, Melody, and Professor Fitch.

Parental Guidance: 12-17 years (BN.com). No profanity and no intimacy. Some violence and violent descriptions of chalklings, but not too bad.

Stand Alone or Series: The second book in the series will be titled The Aztlanian and is loosely scheduled for a 2017 release.

Price: I found copies new, used, and e-book on Amazon from $2.24-$9.99.

JOKE of the WEEK

Q: What do you call a computer that sings?

A: A-Dell.

Buy $mart, Eat Well

Steak & Gravy with Onion

Ingredients

- 3 tablespoons of cooking oil (Parade gallon veg oil on sale $4.99!)
- 1 onion, sliced (about 3 cups)
- 1 clove of garlic, minced
- 3 pounds beef bottom round steak (on sale $4.29lb!)
- Kosher salt and freshly cracked black pepper, to taste
- 1/2 cup of all purpose flour
- About 1/4 cup of water for deglazing
- 1 can cream of mushroom soup
- 1 soup can of water
- 1/4 teaspoon of dried thyme, crushed
- 1 teaspoon of Kitchen Bouquet

Directions

• Heat 1 tablespoon of the oil in a large skillet over medium heat. Add the onion and cook, stirring occasionally, until the onions have caramelized, about 12 to 15 minutes. Add the garlic and cook for about a minute. Remove onion and garlic from pan and set aside.

• Meanwhile, season the meat lightly on both sides with salt and pepper and pound with a meat mallet to tenderize. Cut into 6 to 8 serving sized pieces, and dredge in the flour, shaking off any excess. Heat another tablespoon of oil in the same skillet you cooked the onion in over medium heat, and brown the steak on both sides in batches, setting the pieces aside as you brown them and adding additional oil as needed.

• Deglaze the pan by adding in about 1/4 cup of water to the empty skillet, simmering and scraping up all of the browned bits from the bottom of the skillet. Meanwhile combine the cream of mushroom soup, water, thyme and Kitchen Bouquet in a small bowl. Add half of the soup mixture to the pan juices and stir until blended. Return the meat to the skillet, turning to coat each piece and top with the caramelized onions. Pour the remaining soup mix over the top, cover, reduce heat and low simmer, stirring and turning occasionally, about 1-1/2 to 2 hours, or until meat is very tender.

• Transfer meat to a platter or on individual plates and pour the gravy over the meat. Serve with rice (Blue Ribbon 5lb bag on sale 2/$5.00!) and a green salad or vegetable, like southern style green beans with bacon and onion. Recipe found at www.deepsouthdish.com

Did you know...

By Yvonne Ryba

I hope you enjoyed Independence Day? It is a day for the family and a time to celebrate our great country. If you were at Shepherd's Celebration, you will have noticed the decorations around the staging area. Everything was cut and sewn by our Chamber President, Twinkle Webber. She worked for days at a time to make them. Thank you too all those who helped set up and make the day work well for everyone.

Twinkle sells chicks and free range eggs from her "Twinkle's Chicken Ranch" in Shepherd. Free range eggs are expensive right now because of the chicken disease which has wiped out millions of birds across the country. Twinkle sells hers for $3 a dozen. Baby chicks are $2 each and youngsters from 3 weeks up are $3 each. Call her at (936) 446-6011 for more information.

Shortly you will see the date for the ribbon cutting for the new business in town, "Spirit Whispers." Located in suite 6, at 11231 Hwy 150, this is just along from Shepherd Chamber and the EDC office, and beside "Tanning and Treasures." The owners, Jerriebeth Williamson and Helenmarie Johnson, offer various forms of alternative healing, including Reiki. Every Thursday starting at 7:00 p.m. until about 8:00 p.m., there is a Meditation Circle. This is an informal group and all are welcome to come to this guided meditation. You will also have a chance to see the handmade jewelry by Mary Viau, which is on display there. Mary makes every piece herself. She uses copper and natural stones like amethyst. Bracelets start around $10, pendants from $7 and rings and earrings are in the same range.

If you want to try your hand at dowsing, you can buy a pair of dowsing rods made from copper for $20 a pair. "Spirit Whispers" also offers some essential oils and Elderberry concentrate, which is very good in building up the immune system. For more information or to make an appointment call either (281) 761-1256 or (281) 761-8027.

Both Chambers, Coldspring and Shepherd, have started to think about Christmas events. Christmas on the Square is always a big event and plans are being made to make this year very special. Shepherd too is looking at decorating the town for our Parade and Holiday event.

Shepherd Library is holding weekly story telling for children. On Wednesday, about 15 children were treated to a tour of a Texan Ambulance and they thoroughly enjoyed climbing inside and hearing how all the equipment worked. Each child also was given a small First Aid kit. To hear more about their programs, call the library at (936) 628-3515.
